

A woman in a red short-sleeved button-down shirt and a black apron stands on the left side of the frame, smiling. She is looking towards the center of the kitchen.

In the center, a woman wearing a white short-sleeved shirt, a blue protective gown, and a pink hairnet is leaning over a counter. She is wearing black gloves and is using a pizza cutter to slice a pizza on a wooden cutting board. A younger person, also wearing a blue protective gown and a pink hairnet, is assisting her.

To the right, another woman in a blue protective gown and a pink hairnet is looking down at something in her hands. She is also wearing blue gloves.

On the far right, another person in a blue protective gown and a pink hairnet is partially visible, facing away from the camera.

On the left side of the counter, there is a large stainless steel pot with a lid. In front of it is another stainless steel pot.

In the center of the counter, a pizza is being cut on a wooden board. Next to it is a white mug with a pink spoon inside, and a black frying pan.

On the right side of the counter, there are several condiment bottles: a red squeeze bottle, a yellow squeeze bottle, and a clear glass bottle of olive oil.

In the foreground, there is a large stainless steel range hood with a black metal grate.
